A montage of some of the photos taken is displayed in Church and also, with your permission, I have posted the photos taken on the day on to the website so that all our former parishioners who attended will be able to get access to them and view them. Go to the parish website and see the link on the side in Parish History. Click on Diamond Jubilee for the photos. The display will be coming down next week. If you would like a booklet version of the display then please sign up on the list and one will be printed for you.
